The Young & the Restless

Don't let The Thieves deceive you. They might come off like a hipsterfied version of Hanson, all chiseled jaws and goldilocks, but this L.A.-via-U.K. trio is more about the rock than the mmm-bop. They're still working out the kinks of merging tradition with progress, but their U.S. debut, The White Line EP, shows remarkable promise: Opening track "You Get It Easy" sounds like Jakob Dylan copping David Bowie's thoughts on heroes, all topped off with a little Julian Casablancas flair. Forgive these musical miscreants for their dashing good looks; there's a certain delectable rawness to their sound.

The Thieves @ The Lo-Fi Café, 127 S. West Temple, Monday Feb. 21, 6:30 p.m. Tickets: 800-888-8499 (with Electric Eel Shock).
